SUCCESS IN FAILURE

I must admit my failure. I do not know what it is that I should do. The circulation of 'Resurgence' has come to a standstill at the figure of 2,500. With great effort we have managed to keep our expenditure at the same level as last year, apart from the Post Office bill. Our printer, type setter and artist have not increased their fees very much. These amount to £4,320. The Editor's salary is the same – £720 per annum. Managing Editor – £950, Secretary – £1760, Postage, carriage, telephone, stationery and electricity £615. Total – £8,365.

Income from 1,100 direct subscribers totals £3,850. Then we have an income from bookshop sales of about £2,100. Therefore we have a deficit of £2,415. The only way to meet this deficit is to gain 700 more subscribers. Last year Ernest Bader, Howard Cheyney, A. Graham Cary, Robert Rodale, and Dartington Hall gave us substantial support to meet the deficit. I hope very much that they will come to the rescue of 'Resurgence' this year as well, but we cannot go on depending on our well wishers. We must find more subscribers and you, our enthusiastic readers can help us. You can help us very easily:

1. By introducing 'Resurgence' to some of your friends. Send us names and addresses of potential subscribers amongst your circle of friends and we will send them a sample copy.

2. By giving 'Resurgence' as a gift to your brother, sister, parents, children, friends, or even to your library, your doctor's waiting-room, your school's common room. Please think. With a little gift, you are spreading the message of Small is Beautiful, and a sane ecological society.

3. By generously making a donation to 'Resurgence'. We have not increased the subscription rate in spite of all the inflationary costs. Therefore we deserve a donation.

So, with these words, I look forward to hearing from you.
